VOLUME THREE

J. M. H. S.

On the banks of the Rappahannock,
And the ancient King's Highway;
At the head of navigation
And the tide from the Chesapeake Bay,
Stands a city old and honored
May her shadows ne'er grow less;
And the jewels of that city
Is her High School, J. M. H. S.

(Chorus)
Hail, hail, to James Monroe
Our own beloved High;
Though her pathway may be rugged
We will leave her with a sigh;
In the years before us,
Her name we'll always bless;
For she's our foster mother,
Our beloved J. M. H. S.

Four square to the winds of heaven,
Four square to truth and right;
May she stand foursquare forever,
'Gainst ignorance and strife.
May she ever bear with honor
And her sons and daughters bless,
The flag that flies above her,
Our beloved J. M. H. S.

DEDICATION

"We, the students of James Monroe High School, dedicate the 1949 Monroe Echo to MRS. ELIZABETH COURTNEY as a token of appreciation and gratitude for the guidance, encouragement, and friendship which she gave to us during the many years she served this school."

CLASS SONG

Where, oh where are the grand old Seniors?
Where, oh where are the grand old Seniors?
Where, oh where are the grand old Seniors?
Safe now in the wide, wide world.

They've gone out from their Alma Mater,
They've gone out from their Alma Mater,
They've gone out from their Alma Mater,
Safe now in the wide, wide world.

1949 CLASS HISTORY

"Climbing the Golden Ladder"

I am pleased and honored to be given the assignment of preparing the history of the Class of 1949. The history which I have prepared may not be particularly impressive. It is impressive though that young Americans graduating from high school today are going to be responsible for what is written in the future pages of American history.

Four years ago, early one September morning, an eager, joyous group of knowledge-seekers came pouring into James Monroe High School. Some came from the elementary grades, where they had for many months been busily engaged in storing their minds with the honey of wisdom; a few were fresh and green from a far country; some came from farms where they had been tillers of the soil; and many, from other halls of instruction.

These Freshmen were received by several other bands of human beings who were called Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. At first, high school seemed very difficult to these Freshmen, but as time passed they fell in with the customs of high school life, and their strangeness wore away.

The election of the Freshman officers was very difficult, as campaigns raged and enthusiasm climbed by the minute. Those finally chosen to lead the class were: Bert O'Toole, President; Alfred Ventura, first Vice-President; Natalie Lancaster, second Vice-President; and Dike Hooe, Secretary-Treasurer.

The Freshman Class labored hard and continuously. They accomplished many noble deeds while taking a leading part in all high school activities.

After three months of summer vacation, a new era began which can be entitled Sophomore year. During this session many Sophomores gained prominence among the high school boys and girls. Doris Ann Lindsey was chosen drum-majorette of the James Monroe High School Band. The Junior Varsity Football cheerleaders were composed entirely of Sophomores, which included Doris Pepper, Diana Rowe, Natalie Lancaster, Doris Ann Lindsey, Judy Scott, Margaret Pitts, and Marlene Kendall.

However, the day in December, 1946, called Senior Day, put the high-minded Sophomore Class back into its place. Seniors ruled supreme, and forced the poor Sophomores and other lower classmen to step far below their dignity. The poor Sophomores, however, managed to survive and they were able to carry on for the remainder of the term.

The Junior year was marked by a great change. The "Class of 49" began to realize what high school could do for them. They had a better understanding of their friends, their teachers, and their surroundings. The officers of the Junior Class were Billy Layton, President; Natalie Lancaster, Vice-President; Barbara Eanes, Secretary; and Joe Scher, Treasurer.

During this year, athletics, always a major part of high school life, became one of the greatest interests of the Junior Class. Junior boys and girls who had been trying out for the football, baseball, and basketball, and track team, were now making the squads in large numbers. Other members of the class attended the games to give joyous and eager support to their loyal warriors.

Toward the end of the year, the usual Junior-Senior and Senior-Junior Proms took place which provided an enjoyable time.

The big day arrived in September, 1948, when the class became eighty full-fledged Seniors, under the capable sponsorship of Mrs. Mildred Chick and Mrs. Fleda Beable. The following Senior officers were elected: Joe Scher, President; Edward Cann, Vice-President; Natalie Lancaster, Secretary; Billy Layton, Treasurer. The class motto became "I am not afraid of tomorrow, for I have seen yesterday, and I love today!" After much discussion, red and white were selected as the class colors and the American Beauty Rose as the class flower. A staff to edit the third publication of the "Monroe Echo" was chosen. Everyone gave this Senior class project his fullest cooperation.

"Lena Rivers," a three-act play by Mary Jane Holmes, was presented as the annual Senior Play, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred Chick and Mr. J. F. Dahlgren.

On January 18, 1949, the Seniors found sweet revenge. Yes, it was Senior Day and the poor underclassmen were the unfortunate receivers of pranks mixed in with a day of good fun.

A most eventful moment for the Seniors took place on January 20, 1949, when the class attended the Inauguration of President Harry S. Truman, in Washington, D. C.

Charles Harding, an outstanding member of the Senior Class, performed a phenomenal feat by making a dollar go farther in 1949 than George Washington did in the Eighteenth Century, which is miraculous indeed, taking into consideration the value of the present dollar compared to that of an Eighteenth Century dollar. For this feat Charles gained nation-wide recognition from many leading newspapers, and received many letters of congratulations. One of these letters came from far distant Honolulu. We are proud to have this outstanding athlete as a member of our Graduating Class.

Seniors are always outstanding in extra-curricular activities. This year they took the lead in the functioning of high school clubs and organizations. A list of all school clubs and organizations and the number of Seniors enrolled in each are as follows: Commercial Club, thirteen; Science Club, sixteen; Library assistants, one; Varsity Club, ten; Glee Club, eighteen; French Club, twenty-two; Dramatics Club, thirty-two; Thespian Club, fifteen; Beta Club, six; G. A. A., eleven; Home Economics Club, six; Spotlight, twelve; S. C. A., twelve; Latin Club, four; Literary Magazine, ten; Key Club, seven; Band, four; D. O. Club, four; D. E. Club six; and Industrial Arts News, one. It is interesting to note that of these twenty school organizations twelve were led by members of the James Monroe Senior Class of 1949. We are, indeed, very proud of our accomplishments in this field.

Other interesting activities in which the Seniors took part during the year were the mock election, organization of the S. C. A., a radio program, class picnic, debating and public speaking contests, nights at the Youth Canteen, numerous dances and plays, and several sight-seeing tours.

We who are graduating today are grateful for our many opportunities. To think of ourselves in comparison with those of other countries it sounds like we are just Climbing a Golden Ladder. We are living in a time of peace and prosperity, and one in which the emphasis is on the education, health, and well being of the individual. May each of us, with the help of God, be guided to do what is right for ourselves and for our loved ones.

BOBBIE THURSTON

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1949 of the James Monroe High School, of the State of Virginia, having completed our pursuit of knowledge in school and wishing to distribute our various assets equally and accordingly, do hereby execute this last will and testament.

ITEM I

To the faculty of James Monroe High School we bequeath our sincerest thanks and appreciation for being such wonderful friends and instructors to us during our memorable days in high school.

ITEM II

To the class of 1950 we bequeath the deeds to rooms 33 and 35 inclusive of the radio, the piano, and all carved initials on the desks.

ITEM III

To the Sophomore Class we bequeath for their Junior year, the courage to live through Senior Day.

ITEM IV

To the Freshman Class, who, when others smiled at our airs and dignity, still approached us with frightened faces and trembling limbs, we bequeath the precious little things for which we have no further use: our invisible gum chewing; our deft note passing; and our short-cuts in reading monthly book reports. By the early employment of such talents we hope that you may reach heights that even WE could never attain.

CODICIL

Joe Heffernan bequeaths his ability to give a history answer—right or WRONG—and stand by it to Billy Doumas.

Jean Donahoe and Bobbie June Caverlee bequeath their ability to get along with the male population of this institution to Beryl Beck.

Franklin Carroll and Bobby Reynolds bequeath their ability to get along with the female population to Jack Young.

Natalie Lancaster and Judy Scott bequeath their stylish clothes to Betty Jane Thompson.

William Stewart, Raymond Colley, and Aubrey Daffan bequeath their band instruments to Charles Whittaker, Bernard Curtis, and Gilbert James.

Mary Frances Drew bequeaths her ability to rise at 8:45 a. m. and arrive at school at 8:50 a. m. to Eleanor Rae Jones.

Nancy Hall and Carlton Onderdonk bequeath their golden voices to Phyllis Damron and Tom Schuler.

Pat Heflin bequeaths her movie star collection to Harriet Maynard. We hope Harriet has room for them all!

Betsy Brown and Mary Ellen Southworth bequeath their cute smiles to Anne Taylor.

Tom Carey bequeaths his Delaware accent to Peter Hearn.

Olga Bauer bequeaths her ability to out-shout the thunder of whispering Seniors to next year's hard-working home room secretary.

Gloria Carter and Joyce Shepherd bequeath their beliefs that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach—not surgery, but cooking—to Nell Smith and Mary Anna Brickett.

Frank Berry bequeaths his ability to get Lowell Self into trouble to John Wright so that John may use it on Mac Willis.

Lowell Self bequeaths his ability to talk his way out to Mac Willis.

Barbara Forbush bequeaths her good-looks and charm to Patsy Wilhour.

Joe Scher bequeaths his wish to become another great disc-jockey, like our own Harold Green, to anyone who may have a similar ambition.

Ellen Ross Gibson, Betty Belman, James Pappas, and Rodger Chartters bequeath their driving abilities to anyone who can keep their license and do what they did!

Carrie Nunnally and Lois Harder bequeath their abilities to apply make-up —stage that is—to next year's Senior Play committee.

Peg Snellings bequeaths her artistic ability to George Benson.

Bobby Thurston bequeaths his presidency of the S. C. A. to next year's leading officer.

Carl Howard and Joe McCary bequeath their 113 original excuses for not having their home work to George Jones and George Shepherd.

Mary Oliver, Doris Pepper, and Virgilene Donald bequeath their basketball abilities to Peggy Sullivan, Sue Straughan, and Peggy Pitts.

Teddy Jones and Frank Marchal bequeath their good-humors to Leo DeBruyn.

Charles Linton bequeaths his ability to portray the father in plays to Bobby Hildrup.

Billy Layton bequeaths his favorite spot at City View to anyone who enjoys a view of the city as much as he does.

Ann Sacrey bequeaths her big brown eyes to Sidney Loving.

Jimmy Hearn and Jake Ellis transfer their membership in the Bachelors' Club to Rodger Loving and Hayden Silver.

Virgina Stiles, Barbara Williams, and Shirley Townsend bequeath their abilities to get to school one-half hour early to anyone on the S. C. A. monitor system.

Lee Pritchett bequeaths his long side-burns to Donnie Alexander.

Ray Donald, Richard Hall, Charles Harding, and Henry Cloe bequeath their athletic prowess to Billy Middleton, Edward Cann, and Franklin Powell.

Herman Carr and Virginia Brooks bequeath their abilities to act to next year's shining stars.

Tom Segar bequeaths his trouble in geometry to any unlucky Junior.

Betty Jean Walker bequeaths her blond hair to India Lindstrom.

Jackie Pitts bequeaths her post as the most romantic girl in the Senior class to Catherine Shelton.

Peggy Flippo bequeaths her argicultural knowledge to Tommy Reed.

Mary Ann Perry bequeaths her efficiency in the cafeteria to anyone who works there.

Jean Layton, Delores Garnett, Jackie Green, Lucille Hudson and Frances Berry bequeath their desks in the Senior home rooms to any Juniors who pass.

Barbara Garner bequeaths her love of pop-corn, and Sonya Sponseller, her frozen custard to some hungry underclassmen.

Andrew Skinner bequeaths his WILLINGNESS to exert himself to Philip Coleman.

Janet Chinn and Lucille Chandler, Barbara Eanes and Barbara English bequeath their friendships to Eleanor Pritchett and Pauline Binns.

Doris Ann Lindsey bequeaths her drum majorette strut to next year's drum majorette.

Barbara Castle bequeaths her large vocabulary to Jimmy Jones.

Mary Weber Stoner, Phyllis Burton, and Jackie Dagg bequeath their ceaseless talking to Ruthie Yanow. We KNOW that she will make good use of it!

Marlene Kendall bequeaths her voice and a recommendation for a good throat doctor to next year's head cheerleader.

Virginia McGee bequeaths her horse-laugh to Joan Sullivan.

Duke Taliaferro bequeaths his flashy plaid shirts to Nelson Graves.

Tomty Cocke bequeaths a pair of shoes to anyone who is man enough to fit into them!

Peggy Hall bequeaths the fun she had in making this will to the composer of the 1950 last will and testament.

In Witness whereof, we, the Class of '49, have hereunto subscribed our name and affixed our seal, the seventh day of June, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and forty-nine.

PREVIEW OF AN AMAZING FUTURE

The consideration of future events is always an interesting subject. To think about the career possibilities of my fellow classmen is still more interesting because it involves each one of us personally. It is our good fortune to leave high school at a time when the world seems to be seething with energy, enthusiasm, imagination and invention. Our good fortune is still greater because we are graduating in a time of peace and prosperity. I am, nevertheless, pleased with the assignment of presenting the prophecy for the Class of 1949.

Gloria Carter was arrested by Tom Carey, Wild-Life Conservation officer, when she hit "Chicken" over the head with a rolling pin.

Charles Harding was sworn in as President of the United States by Chief Justice Herman Carr.

The wedding that rocked the world was that of Peggy Flippo's and Tomty Cocke's. Barbara English, a laboratory technician and friend of the bride, administered their blood tests. Reverend James Pappas performed the marriage ceremony in his parsonage. Their future plans include a new modern home to be constructed by Tommy Segar, a general contractor. Carlton Onderdonk is now surveying land in Stafford County to determine where the house will be erected.

Billy Layton, president of the Lonely Heart's Club, has employed three dependable secretaries: Doris Pepper, Mary Oliver, and Carl Howard.

"Does the Navy actually need any more men?" Admiral Nimitz asked himself when Frank Berry, Joe Dan McCarey, and Frank Marchal reported for duty.

Raymond Colley and Joe Heffernan have invented a grapefruit spoon with an umbrella attachment to prevent the juice from flying into the eyes.

Betsy Brown won the Poetry Pulitzer Prize for her collection of religious poems.

Professor Barbara Eanes was injured while performing an experiment at M. W. C. She was rushed to the hospital where Dr. Mary Weber Stoner and Nurse Virginia McGhee nursed her back to health.

Peggy Hall accepted the editorship of the Washington Times Herald and named Bobby Thurston as sports editor.

Pat Heflin's movie theater was recently the scene of the premiere of Barbara Castle's latest motion picture, "The Return of Macbeth."

When James Hearn took over the job as principal of J. M., Delores Garnett, switchboard operator, was there to greet him.

Peggy Snellings, commercial artist, has completed the advertisements for Ann Sacrey's new product—Sacrey's Sentimental Sachet Powder.

Lee Pritchett signed a contract with Metropolitan Opera to act as understudy for Rise Stevens.

Carrie Nunnally and Virginia Brooks were recently admitted to the nursing staff of Walter Reed Hospital. They were immediately given the title, "The Singing Nightingales."

Mary Ann Perry, in her trip around the world, met Judy Scott in Africa, where Judy was buying monkeys for Macey's Pet Shop.

Virgiline Donald, a housewife, has a tip for homemakers who want to listen to the radio while dusting—dust the radio until the program is over.

Virginia Stiles made her debut to Broadway when she beautifully played the "Hungarian Rhapsody" on the black keys.

"Why can't I concentrate on my work?" asks Marlene Kendall, who is Peter Lawford's personal secretary.

Lucille Chandler, once an orator, is now concentrating on hypnotism. During her last oration, the entire audience went to sleep.

Sonya Sponseller has manufactured frozen custard in a new pastel shade—lavender blue.

Mary Ellen Southworth recently accepted the principalship of Lafayette Elementary School where Janet Chinn and Betty Walker are members of the faculty.

When Jo Stafford contracted laryngetis, our own Bobbie Caverlee was on hand to give a duplicate rendition of "Temptation."

Shirley Townsend was fired when her boss found her unconsciously sketching figures instead of taking dictation.

Ellen Gibson has invented a new variety of dog soap. The guarantee reads: "If it doesn't kill the fleas, it will kill the dog."

William Stewart, a helicopter aviator, was arrested for flying at low ceiling level over Miami Beach.

Ray Donald is the star center for the Washington Red Skins. Coaching the Red Skins this year is Richard Hall.

Joe Scher is now celebrating his second anniversary as Walt Disney's assistant in the production of animated cartoons.

Roger Chartters has published a book of jokes entitled: "One Thousand Minus Nine Hundred and Ninety-Nine of the Best Jokes."

When Jean Donahoe finally reached Hollywood, her boss, who thought her old name did not suit her profile, gave her a new one. Today, Jean is known as "Lena Rivers."

Mary Frances Drew has manufactured a time clock for own personal use. When she punches the clock, it records the previous hour.

Aubrey Daffan has migrated southward to Georgia where his southern drawl feels more at home.

While visiting the South Sea Isles, Duke Taliaferro fell in love with a mermaid and now he is living at Davey Jones' Locker.

Andrew Skinner's Bakery is the only one in town that sells bread without a crust.

Frances Berry, a housewife for nine years, is sending her son to Barbara Garner's Kindergarten.

Jackie Ellis has retired to Alaska, where he and his Eskimo wife operate a seal farm.

Jackie Pitts gives everybody chills and thrills when she daringly "floats through the air with the greatest of ease" at Barnum and Bailey's Circus.

Lowell Self has been an engineer on the B&O Railroad for the past five years. Employed by the B&O is Olga Bauer who is a train hostess.

Lois Harder recently suffered a nervous breakdown, when one of her horses died of pneumonia.

Barbara Williams' latest book, "Gentlemen's Disagreement," was greatly received by the reading public.

Betty Belman and Teddy Jones have consolidated individual grocery stores into a large business.

Another program has been added to the series of programs called "The Fat Man" and the "Thin Man." This time it is "The Tall Man," starring Henry Cloe.

In a recent agricultural experiment, Charles Linton, discovered a new type of edible green corn. He entitled his experiment "The Green 'Ears."

Doris Ann Lindsey and Jackie Dagg are now in New York modeling Nat Lancaster's new creations.

Jean Layton was hailed as another Steve Brody when she successfully rolled over the Niagra Falls in a barrel.

Franklin Carrol, who has been a dealer in tombstones for years, is studying to be an undertaker.

All of our five February graduates, Phyllis Burton, Joyce Shepherd, Barbara Forbush, Lucille Hudson, and Jackie Green have year around apartments in the Waldorf-Astoria, where they are practicing the art of good housekeeping.

Nancy Hall is now in Switzerland enjoying a vacation after having struggled days and nights to compose the Class Prophecy.

CLASS POEM

Unto Whom Praise Is Due

All hail to you, most worthy friends,
The friends we hold so dear,
Most glad are we to welcome you,
Most glad to see you here.

O listen ye not, ye shades of great poets,
From Shakespeare, to Shelley, to Frost,
Such ammature verse as this is, I know,
Would ne'er by you be endorsed.

Right thankful I am I have listeners kind,
Who remember their own graduation.
They'll say to themselves, "She'll do better next time."
And win my everlasting appreciation.

Our thanks we would give to our School Board,
The members so wise and far-seeing.
Had it not been for their interest and zeal,
These diplomas had ne'er come into being.

Had they not sought anear and afar
For teachers of wisdom and learning,
Poor ignorant we, untutored, untaught,
For the three R's would still have been yearning.

Our parents dear, how can we express
How grateful we are, loyal and understanding,
There're not enough words; it must be in deeds,
Right living, loving and giving.

Our love and esteem to our wise Superintendent
He must, at times, have found us a care
But in days pleasant or rough, never once did he shirk—
A fine man, honest, inspiring, and fair.

To our friends one and all, we wish to say
With grateful hearts and deep emotions,
All through life, we never shall find
Real rivals to equal your true devotion.

So we, the class of '49, do tribute pay
To you whom praise is really due,
For without your guidance and helping hand
We could never have achieved this great day.

PAT HEFLIN.
